LAW OFFICES ROSEMARIE ARNOLD

New Jersey Super Lawyer Rosemarie Arnold is a trim, stunning, brunette with soft brown eyes, a firm, friendly handshake, and a warm smile. But, her litigant adversaries warn, don't be lulled by her personal charm. Arnold is as tough-minded and ferocious as they come. She knows the law, she knows the facts of her case, and she's always prepared. Add to that her dedication and notoriety as a legal tiger and it's easy to see why, one year after being profiled in this magazine ("Rosemarie's Baby"), Arnold has again been recognized as a Super Lawyer by her peers.

"WE'RE GETTING BIGGER AND BETTER," SAYS THE "QUEEN OF TORTS."

For almost 20 years, the Law Offices of Rosemarie Arnold has handled high-profile personal injury cases, growing from a solo practice to a 14-attorney operation with more than 1,000 open cases. In a profile published last year, The Bergen Record called Arnold, "a courtroom bulldog who won't be leashed."

Her reception room is covered with hundreds of thank-you notes from grateful clients. They praise her compassion, professionalism and understanding; they call her kind, brilliant, hard-working and attentive. Nearby, letters from judges and former judges compliment her courtroom skills. "I'm passionate about every client's case and determined to get them the very best outcome," says Arnold, a Certified Civil Trial Attorney. "A child maimed by a dangerous toy, a mother badly injured in an automobile crash, a father taken from a family because of workplace negligence — that's who I fight for," she says.

Arnold's first priority is to ensure that her clients receive full and fair compensation for their pain and suffering, but she also wants to hold companies and individuals accountable for their actions.

In that vein, Arnold helped to create the Rebeka Vereva Foundation in memory of an 18-year-old client who died in an automobile accident caused by a speeding teenage driver. The foundation, which campaigns for safe driving among teens, has garnered support from numerous public officials including State Attorney General Peter Harvey.

Not surprisingly, Arnold's Super Lawyer image has begun to attract national attention. She now spends part of her busy week sifting through requests to appear on television and respond to newspaper reporters. She has shared her legal expertise with the Today Show, Inside Edition, Maury Povich, NBC News, CNN, MSNBC, A Current Affair, Fox News, NY1, WB-11, New York Times, NY Post, and Newsday, among others.

Super Lawyer Rosemarie Arnold has a trademark blend of legal toughness, intelligence, determination and compassion. It is no wonder she is often referred to as the "Queen of Torts."
